PFSC – On the Front Lines for Sportsmen for 84 Years!

Providing leadership and advocacy for the enhancement of our fish and wildlife resources with a constant presence on Capitol Hill on behalf of sportsmen & sportswomen

Hunting, fishing, trapping and the outdoor pursuits we all cherish play an important role in our lives. Time spent immersed in nature with family and friends has special meaning, something that is impossible to quantify. Stories shared around the campfire or at hunting camp are forever burnt in our memories. Preparing wild game pulled from the freezer brings memories of past experiences, reconnecting us to the outdoors.

Outdoor pursuits have shaped, molded and defined generations. Despite all of the modern conveniences surrounding us, we still yearn for the outdoors, to connect with nature and to fit within it all.

However, today many are pushing a different agenda. One that threatens our ability to pursue our passions and expand on our outdoor heritage. Anti-hunting groups raise millions of dollars by pandering to well-meaning people who open their wallets, thinking they are helping orphaned pets and animal shelters. Yet much of those dollars go to groups like HSUS, the largest organization threatening our outdoor heritage. Less than 1% of their $100 million-plus annual budget goes to animal shelters or animal care. The majority of their budget goes towards salaries and expenses of staff across the country who carry out their anti-animal use missions attacking hunting, fishing, trapping, farming and many other aspects of our outdoor heritage by pressuring politicians to put their ideology into practice. They fragment us into small groups who cannot withstand the financial and political punches they throw at us.

While there are several worthy national organizations whose mission is dedicated to protecting and advancing hunting, fishing, trapping and 2nd Amendment rights on the national level, the Federation is the only statewide organization with full-time “boots on the ground” in the halls of the state Capitol, representing our interests. Other special interest groups engage in similar issues, but only when their specific issues are threatened.

Like it or not, we live in a day and age where everything is political, especially our outdoor heritage. If hunting, fishing, trapping, 2nd Amendment rights and the sportsmen and sportswomen who engage in these activities are to remain relevant in modern society, then we must be involved at a higher level and we must do more. Expecting that the status quo is good enough is nothing but a recipe for extinction. We have an obligation, one that PFSC has been fulfilling for over 84 years, to protect and advance our outdoor heritage for future generations!

Having a sportsmen’s lobbyist representing our interest at the Capitol is a costly, but absolutely necessary endeavor. You can help us sustain the needed funds required to maintain this constant presence to counter the anti’s rhetoric and propaganda by renewing your membership and by promoting the Federation to other like-minded groups and individuals. Increasing our membership will help ensure the continuation of the promotion and protection of our Outdoor Heritage and 2nd Amendment Rights for today, tomorrow, and future generations yet to come!

The Federation is fighting for your rights on all fronts – the political battles in the Pennsylvania legislature and in Congress, the educational battle for the hearts and minds of conservationists, sportsmen and sportswomen, the protection of our environment and nature resources, and the promotion and protection of our outdoor heritage and 2nd Amendment Rights!

It’s a constant up-hill battle. Our enemies are well funded, using emotion and politics to sway support. So we MUST maintain a constant vigilance, and we need you to stand with us to help us have the resources we need to fight these battles. Please take a moment today to go above and beyond your normal annual membership dues and make a special contribution to the PFSC. Every extra dollar allows us to engage in more issues and invest in our future.

So don’t delay, renew today!

You can help us preserve more than just our memories.

You can make sure our children can make their own memories!
